

the roof of locked
shields

by Kaia Sand

with contributions from Jessi

now I dwell the cloister

two-hummer wide garage--it's so hard to trust,
neighbor, foreclosed
valley an injurious degree of shelter and shade.

some small shrubs
to shelter

What is that

stress ~~at~~ ~~it~~

what is that
stress/strait
tight sea

gr gloves, gripped
small animal traumas

unpaid swelling
blood pressure
cuff, a kitchen
thought, stomach
concern, brothy
sleep, come--

shelter cough Shelter Rash of mistle

junked cars

angry mountains

or similar

junked cars, jewels

or jokes

set like silverware

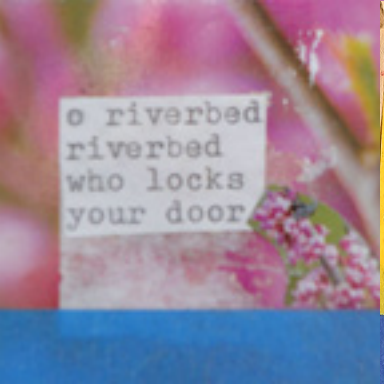

two nights last winter.

like silverware

toxic mist

cruel loans & puffy money &
pulsing purse

there? borrow a bird's beak

o riverbed
riverbed
who locks
your door

a shuddering gait
lengthens shortens
into labyrinthian
certainty two butterflies wide

A collage of colorful geometric shapes and a photograph of a person in a dark jacket with a red flower on their chest. The background consists of a blue border, a yellow triangle, and a pink area. The person in the photo is wearing a dark jacket and has a red flower pinned to their chest. The text is overlaid on a white rectangular area.

the way a retaining wall greets an avalanche and one overcomes the other

dwelt with me

dwelt, ostrich love Monday night
quarterbacking

opwe 21xst

Worship

good morning with effort

willful & workaday striving

a spider sidestep.
my strange human
legs misstep.
labyrinthian mud.
this sky, particular
and shoulder-near,
will, again, darken

1870 Instr. Milit. Engin. §513

It may be necessary [for men imagine--

same time
same place
two people

Me

skirmishing]to dig small pits, which may be called shelter pits in contradistinction to the larger pits..called rifle pits.

a small slight building in a park

(commonly of wood or iron)

STANBANK

www.stanbank.com

I like the way
its wings are

I like the way
its wings are

life camped out

with just that cunning
name

with just that cunning name

high branches

a bed of leaves sand shaped to the body

feet

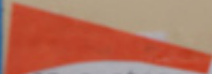

shelter foot,
a painful, swollen
foot or leg

after a person has slept in a sitting position

life camped out
in a body trusting

life camped out
in a body trusting
to afford entrance
the anemone does not.

on a stoop stooped, indebted

by 1906

I do not need to live every miracle.
the sky shows
where I am.
Some clock jammed
at 4 P.M.

March was the best year
that was ever

shelter fool.

Now she dwells on a single note.

"I had a career"
what happened there?
e berry in a beak ranshacked, seared

no need to destroy the stranger, war
torn. [redacted]

[redacted] healing feels a fire of light

[redacted] television

self, world, sea-
bird

a chair lends its support--

I love you

zero down

sheltered $13,000

legroom &

sweet nothings

clothings

g. nurse

back pack is a heavy as 10 bricks
on your back

backpack ten bricks heavy

lodging houses, flop band stands, and night shelters cricket shelters TS WASTE park lodges
refreshment houses IONS shelters of straw or leaves floating

You sleep to be strong. You chose
a low mountain.
Truck exhaust,
exhausted river.
Soggy crud and
squirrels rattling
high branches

locksmith, locksmith burn me a key there's the reckless sun there's the swelling sea

cat

another roof
has long awaited

musie kollektiv 2010