showing singular
perhaps hybrids
kept in hutches
shoving their system
with the act of generation which is not inherited which deviates the structure splitting the hairy transmission short-horned or long-horned its truth reverting to the aboriginal whether or not the experiment would succeed whilst acquired characters and such thus new, thus arising argued to the bloodhound weight making with doubt the immutability, the where-with-all habitually the train of thought having no right to expect much of the remainder and the value of shoulds in the nevertheless how it varies in the winged and the wingless the enormous hunger the inheritance
hulking the long view collapsed into the split a kind of jerky self-satisfaction into the burrowing of rodents relative to the gape of the mouth as forces colliding into forces a spiral looking past what is no longer there past salamanders and crayfish and what takes in their absence pulling back the accents and making no pause for what goes flat not only half-civilized and smug behind and a chuckle for what goes as hypothesis undiminished and watching for allies taking a deep view into accumulation the host of suddenly-produced a cave system to the accuracy of choice a notion for longing: for furthering need the conversation with what used to be let’s not haste the waiting oh remember when it/remember when it was a split screen with weapon in hand as compensation for blindness and mouth-less sounds of viscera the high echo and high there too when hunger begins to press pursued by a kind of unconscious thus slowly thus what can’t be recognized having hardly a distinct name but for the change of breeders but for the raw material of action in the carriage and the tail and wattle a form perfect to itself chalked out on a wall holding still in insufficient descent between the extremes of structure and the sheer improbability from these, taken together willingly perched
and parched
and to the collusions
the kind of humility that clings to the hairs by which each sight is slighted made indulgent and ready for action this distribution of abundance this population pressure growing closely on the same branch nestling to abundance so…no prudential restraint no temptation to devour towards the young organs towards the quagga and donkey and zebra to the countless herds to the annual slaughter made ever more plain
along a continuum of correlations
